

Hector Olivencia Maldonado is a senior partner in the law firm Olivencia & Cribben Law Office, LLC. He specializes in Litigation of Immigration, Corporate, and Labor and Employment Law. Mr. Olivencia received his bachelor degree in Business and Human Resources from the Interamerican University in Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico and his Juris Doctor degree from the Interamerican University School of Law, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico.

Mr. Olivencia-Maldonado began his legal career at Quilichini Law Offices, in San Juan, Puerto Rico where he later became a partner. His clientele has been mainly focused on Corporations and the Small Business proprietor. Recently, he moved to Chattanooga, TN, to open Olivencia & Cribben Law Office, LLC, with his wife and fellow attorney, Andrea Cribben-Acosta.

Mr. Olivencia is a member of the American Bar Association, Labor and Employment Litigation Association. He has spoken on issues of immigration law in printed media and some of his written opinions may be viewed in the Chattanooga Free Press Newspaper, "Noticias Libres". Also, he is a professor of Business Law at the University of Phoenix, Chattanooga Campus.

Prior to establishing his career in law, he was a member of the United States NAVY where he amassed the knowledge and skills necessary to achieve the high standard of professionalism and discipline as a litigator. Mr. Olivencia is also involved as a liason between small businesses and federal agencies who are in need of civilian service oriented businesses.

Olivencia & Cribben Law Office, LLC provide personalized legal services in Spanish and English. "When it comes to legal matters, We speak your language".